BABYTECH MONITOR

Over past years our team of designers and hardware developers have been working to bring our first high tech product to the market. Baby Tech Smart Body monitor, will give parents a new level of insight into their baby's sleep quality and activity. With our non-contact sensors, app, and real - time movement and breathing data, our Smart Body monitor brings more any other product in the market.

But we are not stopping here. We believe in making products that simplify parents' lives. So we're developing a few other products that will communicate with each other and be accessible and controllable from a parent's smart device. Every parent is going to be able to check the status of their babies anywhere of the world.
